A Guide to Thanksgiving with Your Republican Family

WHEN GRANDPA TOM SAYS:

What has President Obama even done for the country anyway?

YOU CAN SAY:

- Unemployment is down 2.6% since 2009, and 8 million jobs have been added in the last 36 months.
- Obamacare has meant 16 million fewer uninsured people in the country, and saved seniors & people on Medicare $15 billion on drug prices.
- The U.S. has doubled clean energy production.

WHEN MOM SAYS:

Why are people so mad about the Kochs? I saw an ad about their company on TV and they don't seem so bad.

YOU CAN SAY:

- The Koch brothers might have a nice PR offensive but they're saying one thing and doing another.
- Even though the Kochs say they're not social conservatives, they've been funneling millions of dollars to anti-choice groups.
- They're committed to spending almost a billion dollars to buy the 2016 elections.

WHEN GREAT AUNT JO SAYS:

That Paul Ryan fellow is adorable! And he seems like such a nice, reasonable politician.

YOU CAN SAY:

- He's actually the "most Conservative House Speaker in history," according to National Journal.
- The budget he proposed would privatize Social Security and turn Medicare into a voucher program.
- Ryan fought to cut taxes for the richest 1% of Americans in half (paid for by a tax increase for 3/4 of Americans).

MAKE AMERICA GREAT AGAIN

WHEN COUSIN SALLY SAYS:

Donald Trump is the only one who's willing to tell the truth and keep our country safe.

YOU CAN SAY:

- Truth? Fully 75% of the Trump claims investigated by PolitiFact have been rated "Mostly False," "False," or "Pants on Fire." Zero of the claims they've looked into have been rated "True."
- Trump said he wants to close mosques and make all Muslim Americans register in a database. That's bigotry, not to mention a scary violation of religious liberty.

WHEN UNCLE LEONARD SAYS:

Well, it sure seems like we haven't even scratched the surface on that Benghazi situation.

YOU CAN SAY:

- 10 House committees have investigated the attacks in Benghazi. This isn't an investigation, it's a partisan witch hunt.
- The committee has wasted $5 million in taxpayer dollars so far — and it's one of the longest investigations in House history.
- During the last hearing on Benghazi, Secretary Clinton testified for 11 hours, yet even the committee's top Republican admitted the marathon hearing resulted in no new information.
